TREATMENT AND ASSESSMENT CENTERS

Following are names of a number of treatment centers we have been made aware of. In most cases, we do not know enough about the center to be able to recommend them. We provide addresses so you can request information to centers that may be convenient to you, and find more information. Chilton Knudsen of the Episcopal Diocese in Chicago (telephone 312-751-4209; fax 312-787-4534) may be an additional source of information about centers close to you. The Interfaith Sexual Trauma Institute has a listing of treatment centers for victims and offenders; contact ISTI at 612-363-3931; fax 612-363-2115.

A variety of approaches are used at different centers. We urge you to choose a treatment program/center that includes interviewing of victims as part of the evaluation process. Consultation with victims provides key information that is not likely to be received otherwise.
