PREFACE

This document contains two main components:

X Part I is a description of the organizational strategy for Mennonite Church USA.
X Part II is a description of the recommended organizational culture and structure to carry out the strategy.

The purpose of the organizational strategy is to:

X clarify what Mennonite Church USA, one member of the worldwide Christian church, can become in the 21st century.
X identify the path we believe God is calling us to follow over the next ten years as we participate in building the church of Christ.

The scope of the organizational strategy includes the entire Mennonite Church USA (congregations, area conferences, churchwide ministries). Many stakeholders provided insightful feedback to earlier drafts of this document. Various committees and planning teams have used it over the past year to gather consensus about the future as we complete Project: Transformation. We believe that developing a common understanding of strategy – the primary focus of work for the new church – is important before we lock in decisions about infrastructure and related programs. Ultimately, we hope this strategy provides inspiration to help congregations fulfill the whole church's vision.

Part II, organizational culture and structure, builds on the organizational strategy and identifies organizational dynamics and infrastructure to carry out it out. It has been a year since this document was originally written, and it will be another year (February 1, 2002) before actual operations of these new structures begin. Consequently, Part II continues to evolve as the new church takes shape. The Transformation Team will soon finish their work, and hand over further development to the Executive Board. Examples where additional work is needed include the more detailed design of Executive Board Offices, and the relationship with Anabaptist Associations. In regard to the latter, work has begun on defining the relationship with Mennonite Health Services.

We are indebted to the results of the congregational study Envisioning a New Mennonite Church, along with the work of the Integration Committee and the U.S. Country Committee for providing the foundational inspiration and essential elements of this plan. In addition, many staff members and conference leaders provided helpful advice. Conversations with the Executive Director of Mennonite World Conference provided new insights. This document represents a new system of relationships designed to achieve unity in building up the cause of Christ in the world.

One of the questions we ask is How can we expect to create something truly new (transformation) if our advice comes predominantly from persons in the present system? Part of the answer comes from doing our best to listen carefully, and to respond selectively. The rest of the answer comes from our affirmation that God is building His church through us, and that we are living into something new that God is doing. We believe that transformation will occur through the leading of the Holy Spirit. We are grateful for God's leading among us, excited about what God has revealed to us, and believe this blueprint reflects God's desire for us.
Part I: Organizational Strategy of Mennonite Church USA

BIBLICAL AND THEOLOGICAL FOUNDATIONS

Biblical and theological affirmations are the foundation and inspiration for the church’s purpose. Strategies and structures should align with these foundations.

1. God’s redemptive work sets the agenda for the church.
   God’s mission is to set things right with a broken, sinful world, to redeem it and to restore it to God’s intended purpose. This mission of God is the church’s reason for being. By participating in God’s mission, the church is a living sign of God’s intended future for the world.

2. Mission is rooted in God’s love, focused on Jesus and empowered by the Holy Spirit.
   The mission is God’s. We are involved in mission because we are recipients of God’s grace and have been invited by God to share the same love for the world that God demonstrated in sending Jesus. Jesus, who went about preaching, teaching, healing the sick and delivering people from evil spirits, who was crucified and resurrected, is the means (the way), the message (the truth) and the model (the life) for all mission. After Jesus’ ascension, the Holy Spirit was poured out to move, transform, inspire and empower the church in mission. The church nurtures its life in the Spirit through Bible study, prayer and other spiritual disciplines.

3. The church is an invitational, worshiping people, living as a contrast community.
   The church is a sign of God’s redemptive activity. It is called and sent into the world to invite all people into community and to demonstrate the living presence and power of God through announcing salvation, proclaiming and demonstrating peace, and serving a needy world in the spirit of Jesus. The church demonstrates its faithfulness to God’s purposes by being a responsible steward of God’s creation and living as a prophetic community in relation to the powers of the world.

4. Healthy congregations extend and reproduce themselves.
   Every congregation is called into health and vitality and to engage collectively in activities that give birth to new congregations and ministries.

5. The gospel is reconciling, holistic and transforming.
   The church announces the good news to the world that people and communities can be reconciled to God and to one another, be transformed into Christ’s image and can experience the healing of God’s grace and peace.

6. Incarnational ministry takes context seriously.
   Whenever the gospel of Jesus Christ encounters a new culture, we can be sure that the God of the gospel has already affected that culture. The mission of God is always incarnational, best demonstrated by “the Word becoming flesh.” This means that the church pays close attention to discover the activity of God already present in that context and to make the mission of God good news in a relevant and transforming manner.
7. The church expects opposition and is willing to suffer.
In the midst of a fallen world, the church expects that opposition and hostility will often be present. The church chooses to risk its life to represent the love and presence of Jesus, even when this may result in misunderstanding and suffering because of the many authorities and powers in the world that oppose the values of God’s authority. The church stands in solidarity with poor and oppressed people and places its hope in God’s future.

8. The final victory already belongs to God through Christ.
The church around the world is a light to the nations, testifying to the power of the resurrection. It is a sign for the world of the “great multitude” described in the book of Revelation: people from every nation, tribe, and language standing before the throne of the Lamb praising God.

PURPOSE

What is the purpose of the Christian church?

The purpose of the church is to participate fully in God’s work of setting things right in a broken world, redeeming and restoring all things in Christ to God’s intended design as we live into God’s new future that has already begun.

Every organized expression of the Christian church has sought to express this purpose in light of its unique history and ministry. It is the aspiration of Mennonite Church USA that all of its parts work together to align themselves with this purpose.
VISION

What is God calling Mennonite Church USA to become?

God calls us to be followers of Jesus Christ and, by the power of the Holy Spirit, to grow as communities of grace, joy, and peace, so that God’s healing and hope flow through us to the world.¹

Mennonite Church USA is a new church body through which God is doing a new thing (Is. 43:19) among Mennonite people. God is sending us, along with all Christians, into all the world as ambassadors of Christ, (Mark 16:15; Matt 28:19-29; John 20:20-21). God has blessed us with a unique Christian perspective through our Anabaptist² faith heritage. God is calling us into a new fellowship, for new and effective witness.

These gifts from God have brought us to a historic crossroads, creating a new design for our relationships and renewing our commitment to the convictions we hold in common.

Throughout Mennonite Church USA we believe God is calling and sending us to:³

Χ Joyfully offer all we are and all we have to God in worship.

Χ Preach, teach, and live God’s written Word in a way that is relevant to our time.

Χ Develop new means and methods to teach and find direction from scripture.

Χ Celebrate the rich diversity of music and worship traditions in our church.

Χ Pray for and encourage one another.

Χ Care for the resources that God has entrusted to us out of gratitude for God’s generosity.

Χ Release our material abundance to meet the physical and spiritual needs of others.

Χ Form communities of believers that are connected and accountable to each other.

Χ Lift up the calling, equipping and sending of leaders as a priority for the church.

Χ Call forth, equip, and honor the spiritual gifts of all members of Christ’s body for the work of God in the world.

Χ Adopt attitudes and lifestyles, born of hearts and minds reconciled to God through Christ, that are life-giving and that attract others to Christ.

Χ Practice obedience and allegiance to Christ no matter the cost.

Χ Identify with the world community of Mennonites as one among many interdependent Mennonite churches around the globe.

Χ Explore new partnerships with other Anabaptist and Christian groups that build up the cause of Christ in the world.

Χ Promote peace, justice and reconciliation, first among ourselves, then to the entire world.

Χ Practice anti-racist principles in church systems as a demonstration of reconciliation.

Χ Confront the spiritual, social, political, and economic challenges of our time.

Χ Carry out God’s mission in the world, expressed in word and deed, starting in the congregation and extending to the global community.

Χ Witness to God’s healing and hope in our lives.

Χ Extend grace, joy and peace in our homes and congregations, to our communities and the world.

Χ Grow in faith and in numbers through studying the scriptures, forming new relationships, and being open to the work of the Holy Spirit in our midst.

Χ Embrace this moment in the history of Mennonite Church USA as an opportunity to increase our witness, strengthen our identity, and bring honor and glory to God.
MISSION AND ROLE

Who is Mennonite Church USA? What role does it play?

MISSION: Mennonite Church USA

To participate fully with God in setting things right in a broken world, we share with others the gift of God's love through our worship, witness and life together.

We worship God through our praise, prayer, and study of scripture. We witness through serving people in need and by inviting people to faith in Jesus Christ and to join the community of believers. Through our life together, we challenge each other to become more Christ-like by the power of the Holy Spirit.

ROLE: Mennonite Church USA

Mennonite Church USA exists as a community of believers in local congregations, as a community of congregations in area conferences, and as a churchwide body in the USA. It joins with the Mennonite Church in other countries as part of the worldwide Mennonite community of faith.

The role of Mennonite Church USA is to:

X Share the good news of Jesus Christ through word and deed, calling people to salvation in Christ, and to form Christian communities of love and service to others.

X Establish, teach and promote the core values and beliefs of the church based on scripture and express them in the Confession of Faith in a Mennonite Perspective⁴.

X Confront forces of the world which work against God's intent for all creation.

X Encourage and enable congregations to actively engage in God's mission in the world.

X Be a channel for dialogue and witness to other church bodies and to governing authorities.

X Be antiracist in all areas of church life and program.

X Tell the story of God's faithfulness in our journey as an Anabaptist people.

X Provide a sense of larger community, creating a common identity for ourselves and recognized by those with whom we come in contact.

X Call and train leaders who know how to apply the Gospel in our time.

X Encourage teamwork and effective partnerships between all parts of the church.

X Combine resources to do together what we cannot achieve alone.
Mennonite Church USA lives in a context where the values and norms of secular society increasingly oppose those of Christ’s church. It can no longer be assumed that civic organizations, political figures, and community activities support the values of the Christian church to the extent they once did. Popular media and information technology strongly influence us in ways that undermine our Anabaptist values and practices. Additionally, the church itself is in danger of being co-opted to serve the purposes of the world’s agenda rather than the agenda of God.

Our Mennonite congregations and communities recognize these influences as we encounter our own brokenness and the anguish of a secular society. It is urgent that within such realities Mennonite Church USA find its way as an agent of God’s love. It must help equip its members, congregations, and area conferences to recognize and meet the significant challenges posed by the dynamics of contemporary society. In accepting the call of God to engage in mission, we are faced with these challenges to the church:

Challenges To The Church

1. Core beliefs. Articulating our core beliefs in ways that bring meaning and hope for people seeking a sense of purpose and spiritual meaning for their lives.

2. Racism. Increasing our understanding of enduring problems of institutionalized racism in our country.

3. Family life. Offering support to build and maintain healthy family relationships.

4. Peacemaking. Meeting the demand for peacemaking and conflict resolution skills resulting from the increased concern about violence in our society.

5. Global relationships. Developing deeper relationships with the church in other parts of the world and increasing mutual accountabilities.

6. Individualism. Balancing the modern lures of individualism with commitments to community life and purpose.

7. Materialism. Understanding that wealth is intended to serve God rather than self, through generous sharing of our resources to help meet the basic needs of all.

8. Balance. Recognizing that work commitments should not overshadow family and church priorities.

9. Anabaptist beliefs. Responding to the growing interest in Anabaptist concepts and theology among other Christian groups, even as we strive to embrace that rich heritage ourselves.

10. Conflicting beliefs. Creating an awareness and critical understanding of the various religious streams competing for the loyalties of our membership.

11. Program support. Encouraging members to channel their financial gifts to and through the various parts of Mennonite Church USA and encouraging attention to resist the appeals of independent, para-church organizations.

12. Economic shifts. Discovering methods of obtaining financial support from an urban economy that is supplanting our rural farm economy as the source of financial resources for the church.
As we engage the challenges presented above, along with other opportunities that emerge, we affirm the internal strengths and acknowledge the internal limitations that Mennonite Church USA brings into its life and ministry. Through appropriate understanding of our strengths and gifts placed in balance with our weaknesses and limitations we are best equipped to meet the challenges of ministry in the congregation and beyond. We observe these internal strengths and limitations:

STRENGTHS

1. Integrity. High integrity recognized in both society and the religious community.

2. Worship and church attendance. With 90% of our members attending church regularly, worship is central to our life and identity.

3. Global awareness. Expanded perspectives through exposure to other world cultures.

4. Peace witness. Strong commitment to nonviolence and use of conflict resolution skills.

5. Income and giving. Above average income and giving to the work of the church.

6. Community. A natural communitarian impulse demonstrated by an emphasis on congregational relationships and mutual accountabilities.

7. Service. Strong support of volunteer efforts, relief and service activities.

8. Holistic theology. Holding word and deed together.

LIMITATIONS

1. Scale. Size and dispersion of membership limits the creation, scope and delivery of denominational programs.

2. Biblical and historical knowledge. Concern for lack of knowledge of the scriptures and our own Anabaptist history among the present membership.

3. Leadership. Lack of clarity on the type of leadership needed by the church for the future; a perceived shortage of Anabaptist-trained pastors and staff leaders.

4. Disagreements. Tendency to fracture (split apart) due to strongly held convictions which are interpreted as differences in understanding of faithfulness.

5. Church culture. Genuine acceptance and integration of people of diverse cultures and ethnic groups is limited in our predominantly homogenous congregations.

6. Rural/urban transition. Struggles of transition from a predominantly rural church to a more urban church.

7. Releasing gifts of all. Fully recognizing and releasing the gifts of women, of people of color, and of other non-traditional Mennonites to the work of the church.

8. Internal focus. Excessive attention to internal agenda at the expense of external relationships.
CORE STRATEGIES
Action statements that describe what we can do to close the gap between the present and our vision for the future.5

This is a kairos moment in the life of Mennonite Church USA! In listening to God's call to bring together our church bodies, we also hear a call to recast our church for the future. As we are being sent into God's mission in the world, we are called to model transformation in Christ for this generation and future generations of Mennonites. Our interconnected core strategies direct us upward to God, outward to the world, inward to strengthen our community of faith and onward to develop skills for growth.

1. Grow in our faithfulness.

Jesus Christ calls us to take up our cross and follow Him. Through God's saving grace, we are empowered to be Jesus' disciples, filled with His Spirit, following the way of Christ through suffering to new life. As we walk by faith in Christ's way, we are being transformed into his image.8 God is calling and sending Mennonite Church USA to:

a. Discipleship
   - Strengthen our understanding of Christ as the center of all of life, and live accordingly.
   - Equip congregations to study the scriptures, and to be taught by gifted teachers, in order to discern and follow the call of God.

b. Spirituality
   - Rediscover the rich meaning and power of giving our gratitude and adoration to God through worship.
   - Foster spiritual growth and follow the leading of the Holy Spirit in applying the truth found in scripture.
   - Share our testimony with others.

2. Reach out to the world around us.

God calls us to Apreach and proclaim good news to the poor, freedom for the prisoners, recovery of sight to the blind, release to the oppressed ....@ (Luke 4:18). As Christ's ambassadors, we allow God's healing and hope to flow through us to the world. God is calling and sending Mennonite Church USA to:

a. Mission
   - Be intentional in welcoming new persons to become part of our congregations and the new churches we plant.
   - Emphasize evangelism, addressing both spiritual and physical needs, calling people to faith and justice.
   - Send and receive mission workers to support mission efforts around the globe.

b. Service
   - Strengthen our system to encourage all members to serve persons in need.
   - Provide opportunities for service (both short and long term) in a way that invites others to come into our midst and serve us even as we go out and serve others.
   - Develop and strengthen ministries of healing and hope.

3. Strengthen our community of faith.

God calls us to grow as communities of grace, joy, and peace. We are called to model our relationships with each other after the example and teachings of Jesus. As stewards of God's gifts, we seek to experience a foretaste of the coming reign of God in our common life together. God is calling and sending Mennonite Church USA to:

a. Community
   - Help congregations to develop their identity as a primary faith community that counteracts the temptations of modern society.

b. Education and nurture
   - Equip congregations to strengthen nurture activities for all age groups.
   - Provide encouragement and incentives for our youth to understand and appreciate our Anabaptist heritage and beliefs.
   - Enable Mennonite students to take Anabaptist courses while in non-Anabaptist school settings.

c. Stewardship
   - Help church members develop a new appreciation of biblical stewardship that celebrates God's generosity by sharing with others.

d. Unity in diversity
   - Promote Anabaptist models for peace and reconciliation when there is conflict within our own community (members, families, and congregations.)
   - Provide resources to help the church appreciate its diversity (racial, geographic, economic, and theological) and to use it effectively.
GOALS

July 2001 through June 2004

1. Grow in our faithfulness.

a. Discipleship Provide a renewed emphasis on congregational study of scripture. Develop and promote new resources which will enable effective teaching to enhance our understanding of God's call.

b. Spirituality Develop new worship resources that enable congregations to offer their praise and thanksgiving to God revealing His power in new ways.

2. Reach out to the world around us.

a. Invitation Develop support at all levels of the church for a common local church identity and practice that welcomes all people into fellowship and ministry.

b. Global Mission Create an identity with the congregation as a center of mission participating in collaborative ministries with other congregations, conferences, agencies, and worldwide partners to bear witness to Christ by planting churches, meeting human needs, and bringing healing.

c. Evangelism Partner with sisters and brothers from around the globe to release the energy of the laity in our congregations for their witness and evangelism.

d. Service Develop mission training activities providing new service opportunities for many age groups.

3. Strengthen our community of faith.

a. Stewardship Establish a churchwide stewardship resource that builds past stewardship initiatives and provides support and encouragement for members and congregations in their stewardship journey.

b. Education and nurture Provide resources for families to live in harmony, and to pass on the beliefs and values of the church. Enable more persons to attend Mennonite schools by making them affordable.

c. Peace and reconciliation Develop resources for congregations to appreciate the past, to understand the new identity and vision of Mennonite Church USA, and to use this in promoting their identity in their own communities.

b. Leadership

X Establish a 10-year leadership project to call out leaders who are committed to our Anabaptist beliefs and who are willing to seek training in Mennonite or related Anabaptist seminaries.

X Review and update leadership training programs so they are consistent with the vision for Mennonite Church USA in the 21st century.

c. Peace and reconciliation Develop a new peace ministry focusing on anti-racism that involves all congregations.

d. USA Teamwork and partnerships

X Inaugurate a 10-year leadership project to call out leaders who are committed to our Anabaptist beliefs and who are willing to seek training in Mennonite or related Anabaptist seminaries.

X Review and update leadership training programs so they are consistent with the vision for Mennonite Church USA in the 21st century.

X Establish a strong relationship with Mennonite World Conference.

X Develop a new peace ministry focusing on anti-racism that involves all congregations.

X Establish closer relationships with other Anabaptist groups; develop ecumenical relationships with other Christian groups.

e. Global Teamwork and partnerships

X Begin partnering with Mennonite World Conference affiliated conferences around the world, with the goal of adding one new partnership each year.
IMAGINING THE FUTURE: 2001 TO 2011

This time line is intended to help persons imagine the future. What key events might mark our progress over the first ten years? We expect these milestones could result from implementing our core strategies.

MISSION and SERVICE

2001 Delegates approve USA global mission strategy; Global ministries round tables begin.
2002 Develop a churchwide growth strategy; establish goals for church planting.
2003 Ten international evangelists itinerate in the USA and stimulate spiritual renewal; promote churchwide Year of Service.
2004 Launch mission exploration and apprenticeship program; 20 participants a year begin one or two-year assignments.
2005 Five multi-ethnic mission leadership training institutes established; all new church planters participate in discernment and training program.
2007 75% of all congregations are active in an urban mission partnership.
2011 Participation in Year of Service exceeds 2000 people, 20 global mission round tables are functioning.

GLOBAL RELATIONSHIPS

2003 Strategy is completed with Mennonite World Conference to establish partnerships with Mennonite church bodies around the globe.
2006 Mennonite Church Mission is part of a global mission structure of accountability and sharing.
2009 Every area conference is participating in a pulpit exchange with a group of churches in another country or culture.
2011 The 2011 Assembly celebrates partnerships with 10 other national Mennonite church bodies; representatives from many other countries are present.

EDUCATION

2002 Develop youth and adult nurture curriculum materials: The new Mennonite Church USA identity, vision, and outreach.
2004 Anabaptist course offerings are available to Mennonite students in non-Mennonite colleges.
2005 Enrollment of Mennonite students in Mennonite colleges shows a marked increase as a result of implementing new churchwide tuition support plans making the cost of a Mennonite education more affordable.
2007 A measurable increase in biblical literacy is documented among young people enrolled in their first year at Mennonite high schools and colleges.
2010 Mennonite seminaries have implemented study programs in five strategic non-Mennonite seminaries across the country to increase the availability of Anabaptist education. Enrollment of Mennonite students has doubled since 2001.

LEADERSHIP

2001 Initiate Leadership 2010, a project to strengthen leadership in the new church.
2003 Mennonite schools and seminaries complete new leadership training tools to implement Leadership 2010.
2006 College level leadership training courses are widely available to people of color groups and are provided in their own language.
2011 The report on Leadership 2010 documents that leadership training and development activities have succeeded in eliminating a previous shortage of Anabaptist-trained pastors and other staff leaders.
STEWARDSHIP

2003 At least 30% of congregations have participated in a first fruits giving seminar and have written a narrative budget, connecting their congregational mission to their use of funds.

2004 Every area conference participates in Stewardship University which offers a variety of resources to help individuals and congregations in their stewardship journey.

2006 75% of our congregations have participated in a first fruits giving seminar and have written a narrative budget, connecting their congregational mission to their use of funds.

2008 A new stewardship education campaign kicked off in 2004 which integrates Stewardship University is embraced by 75% of all congregations.

2010 Congregations have embraced a first fruits giving concept resulting in a 50% increase in the proportion of their budgets allocated to causes beyond themselves.

2011 As a result of the stewardship emphasis, the Ecumenical Stewardship Center reports that Mennonites top the per member giving chart for the first time.

PEACE

2002 Implement a new churchwide Peace Center for conflict mediation serving as a resource for peace and reconciliation both within the Mennonite community and beyond.

2003 Launch Second Mile, a peace process for congregations.

2005 The Mennonite Peace Center gains national attention for its work in mediation and conflict resolution. It is also called on to help other denominations deal with racism.

2008 The Mennonite Peace Center plays a key role in the passage of peace tax fund legislation which pays for peace instead of war.

WORSHIP

2003 A philosophy of worship has been developed to guide the Mennonite Church in shifts toward contemporary worship styles.

2005 Worship leadership seminars have been offered in every Mennonite Church USA conference to communicate the philosophy of worship and train worship leaders.

2007 In their annual assemblies every area conference in Mennonite Church USA models God-focused worship that unites head and heart through a variety of cultural and artistic expressions.

2010 Mennonite artists and musicians complete a new illustrated electronic hymnal which includes original compositions side by side with hymns from the past, offering a unique blend of worship styles for Anabaptist congregations and house churches.

TRANSFORMATION

2001 Delegates authorize the Mennonite Church USA; all area conferences join.

2004 Transformation of area conferences now results in several larger configurations, each of which has established strong partnerships with churchwide programs to resource the needs of their congregations.

2007 A new transformation project begins with the goal of joining the Mennonite Church USA together with some related Anabaptist groups.
Part II: Culture and Structure of Mennonite Church USA

What organizational dynamics should we establish?
How should we organize to carry out our strategies?

Members of Mennonite Church USA experience relationships in the context of fellowship, partnership and common witness with Mennonites in organizational settings close to home and around the world.

A. Primary Relationships of Mennonite Church USA

Functions of the parts of the church in relation to each other:

1. Congregations
- Provide the entry point for persons into the church and thus into active participation in all parts of Mennonite Church USA.
- Serve as the primary place in which persons both corporately and individually experience nurture, worship and other faith expressions.
- Provide the primary group identity for individual members in support of mission and service.

2. Area Conferences
- Provide for the training and credentialing of congregational pastors/leaders.
- Serve critical mass to deliver services to member congregations.
- Give leadership for networking among congregations especially for fellowship and mission endeavors.
- Function in a middle judicatory role, connecting congregations and churchwide parts.
- Connect to churchwide governance primarily through membership in the Constituency Leaders Council, a new means of representative positional authority.

3. Churchwide Program Agencies
- Provide leadership, resources and networking with other programs to facilitate efforts that cannot readily be done in area conferences and congregations.
- Provide expertise and linkages to fulfill common goals with other parts of the church, particularly conferences and congregations.

4. Executive Leadership
- Provide leadership and coordination for the whole church in all its parts.
- Provide links that unify and advance the effectiveness of the whole of Mennonite Church USA, including the development of policies, long-range vision and goals.
- Provide for essential program elements not covered by churchwide program agencies (e.g. ministerial leadership and congregational life.)
- Ensure that ministries and services created are based on the core values held by all parts of the church.
- Express concern for the good of all, through articulating core values and developing systems of sharing resources.
- Serve as the official point of reference between Mennonite Church USA and other denominations and church groups.

5. Anabaptist Associations
- Provide for professional, mission, and service opportunities and collaboration for a broader Anabaptist constituency (MCC, MEDA, MHS, etc.)
- Enable settings for conversation and discernment of common faith issues.

6. Global Mennonite Partners
- Provide a community of Mennonite churches across the globe of which Mennonite Church USA is one church among many. Mennonite World Conference provides links between these churches.
- Enhance the understanding of the identity and mission of Mennonite Church USA through fellowship and service opportunities with the global Mennonite church.
- Partner in unique ways with Mennonite Church Canada to enable joint programming.11
B. Organizational Culture of Mennonite Church USA

(for Churchwide Programs and Executive Leadership)

Organizational Culture:  the values, goals, and norms of behavior that define our relationships.

1. Assumptions for the organizational culture of Mennonite Church USA

X Growing healthy, missional congregations is the primary focus of all parts of the church.

X Organizational culture must reflect the theology and values of the church.

X The development of a new organizational culture requires change.

X Executive leadership will focus on teamwork and collaboration among all parts of the church.

X Networking and flexibility are both necessary in and among all parts of the church.

X Transformation should be understood as an ongoing process, with review and revision as needed in the future.

2. Two defining characteristics: Networking and Flexibility

X Networking

Networking provides accessibility of all parts of the church to each other. Networking includes formal and informal connections that move around, within, beyond, up and down. Multi-directional communication flows are essential to successful networking.

X Flexibility

A flexible organization is able to respond readily to changing needs and circumstances. Dispersion of authority throughout an organization enhances its degree of organizational flexibility.

3. Leadership in a network-oriented, flexible Mennonite Church USA

Leadership seeks a healthy balance between:

X Leaders of the different parts of the church support each other by sharing information and by discernment of common goals. This results in a broader ownership of the denomination's vision, heightened levels of trust and diminished resistance to change (greater flexibility.)

X Executive leadership gives its energies to support the well-being of each part of the church and creates opportunity for interdependence between the parts, all in the service of an overarching vision and goals.

X Executive leadership provides for collaboration between all parts of the church, encouraging and enabling initiatives in many settings, achieving enhanced results for the whole of the church.

X The nature of executive leadership's power and authority in Mennonite Church USA is found in Appendix II.
C. Organizational Structure for Mennonite Church USA

The objective of this section is to clarify how responsibilities are defined and allocated between the various parts of the church to carry out the organizational strategy. The concern in this section is not one of governance, but rather identification of the relationships between the different parts of the church that are needed to achieve the goals of the church. Greater detail is provided for the executive leadership part of the church in order to lay the foundation for its evolving role.

1. Executive Leadership of Mennonite Church USA

a) Functional responsibilities

The Report of the U.S. Country Committee, approved by delegates at St. Louis '99, identified the following functional responsibilities of the Executive Board and staff of Mennonite Church USA. It:

- Acts on behalf of the Delegate Assembly when it is not in session.
- Articulates Mennonite Church USA denominational vision, provides for spiritual oversight, and coordinates churchwide programs.
- Ensures a safety net for small conferences and entities (critical mass and revenue sharing.)
- Maintains communication channels and networks.
- Gives leadership to generation and allocation of resources.
- Fosters partnerships with Mennonites in Canada and worldwide.
- Establishes links with other denominations.
- Receives counsel from the Constituency Leaders Council.

b) Operational responsibilities

The effective discharge of these functions by the Executive Board and its staff requires attention to the following operational responsibilities:

- Ensure that activities and programs align with the values, reflect the priorities, and achieve the mission and goals of Mennonite Church USA.
- Maintain the focus on maximizing services for congregations and area conferences.
- Build cooperation and collaborative relationships throughout the church.
- Provide added capacity for generating resources and minimize excessive competition for resources among the same constituency.
- Practice good stewardship of resources and maximize efficiencies across the parts of Mennonite Church USA.

The Executive Board provides a leadership role for Mennonite Church USA in identifying common values, goals, and ends by:

- Nurturing the “heart and soul” of the church by articulating the church’s calling, and
- Focusing its energies on empowering all parts of the larger church to achieve those ends.

The Executive Board will assign its operational responsibilities to an Executive Director who will be responsible to secure additional staff and to define their specific duties to fulfill the work of the Executive Leadership part of the church. An Associate Executive Director will assist the Executive Director in carrying out the work. One important aspect of the work of the Executive Board staff focuses on network responsibilities which enable teamwork and partnerships to flourish throughout the church. Executive Board staff will be organized around various functional offices, which enable them to engage in networking as well as to provide specific program functions that are not performed elsewhere in the church. Diagrams on pages 17-19 illustrate these roles.
d) Offices of the Executive Board

Through Executive Board staff, the offices of the Executive Board provide support in carrying out the core strategies and goals of Mennonite Church USA. They assume responsibility for pastoral oversight by:

- providing the basis for mutual understanding, good will, and unity in Christ within the Anabaptist-Mennonite view of the gospel,
- providing means by which the whole church can express its vision and mission, and
- enabling the care of relationships in and between parts of the church.

They assume responsibility as the programmatic arm of the Executive Board by:

- modeling and practicing churchwide networking that identifies, convenes, and walks beside other leaders throughout the church,
- providing specific services to area conferences and congregations that lead by inspiration of ideas, building trust in relationships, and offering “added value” to local resources,
- collaborating with conferences and program agencies to identify short and long-term means to enhance their capacity for ministry.

Initial proposals provide for the following offices, with the understanding that they will become functional starting February 1, 2002, the effective date of Mennonite Church USA.

* A proposal for a Cross Cultural Ministries office has been developed but not yet formally approved.

In addition to the offices identified above, the Executive Board and staff will establish formal relationships with various committees and constituency groups. These are shown in the graphic illustrations that follow.
2. Churchwide Program Agencies of Mennonite Church USA

Churchwide program agencies provide leadership and resources for carrying out the core values and priorities of the church. They provide critical mass for specific projects that other parts of the church are not able to handle. They cooperate and network with other parts of the church around common goals. A Board of Directors governs each Agency. Initial proposals describe the following churchwide program agencies of Mennonite Church USA. The Executive Board may authorize or create additional program agencies as needed in the future to carry out the vision and strategies of Mennonite Church USA.

<td>To lead members of Mennonite Church USA toward greater practice of biblical principles of holistic stewardship. It carries out this responsibility by providing programs to assist members in the stewardship of money, health, time, and talents.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Churchwide program agencies work in collaboration with the various offices of the Executive Board to serve the needs of area conferences, congregations, and individual members. An Executive Council chaired by the Executive Director will include the executive officer of each program agency along with the Directors of each Executive Board office. Its purpose is to share information, test proposals, enable collaboration and provide unity in carrying out churchwide priorities and goals.

APPENDICES

Appendix I

DEFINITIONS

Church  The entire spectrum of the denomination: its members, its congregations, area conferences, churchwide programs, and executive leadership.

Denomination  Mennonite Church USA in all its parts.

Networking  Cooperative efforts combined to achieve a common end by two or more parts of the church.

Churchwide  Parts of Mennonite Church USA that relate to the other parts, that is, churchwide programs and executive leadership.

Partnership  Collegial and cooperative relationships among the parts of Mennonite Church USA or with other denominations or national churches.

Transformation  Major change across the spectrum of the church.

Localism  The continuing trend toward greater concentration of resources, efforts, initiative, and decision-making in congregations and conferences.

Community  A core value of Mennonite Church USA expressed in all its parts that emphasizes unity in the diverse body of Christ.

Vertical Relationships  Working relationships based on the understanding of a power of one over the other (sometimes referred to as hierarchical relationships).

Horizontal Relationships  Working relationships based on information flow and decision-making responsibility; relationships defined based on the unique role and gifts of the parts.

Teamwork  Using the unique role and gifts of selected persons and parts of the church to accomplish a task.

Critical Mass  Accumulation of sufficient resources to achieve a goal or accomplish a task.
Appendix II

The following document from the U.S. Country Committee Report (pages 50-51 of the St. Louis <99 Convention Workbook) reflects policy to be developed and implemented within Mennonite Church USA.

3.1 Power, Authority and Accountability in the Denomination

In designing the proposed structures that follow, the U.S. Country Committee is attempting to implement the following perspectives on power, authority and accountability in the U.S. denomination:

$ The church requires structures that empower its leaders to guide and direct others in appropriate ways toward achievement of agreed-upon goals. This is power and authority at its best B a "necessary good" within any large organization.

$ To be effective, the exercise of executive authority (policy determination and implementation oversight) needs to rest in the hands of a workable group of clearly identified individuals (the "Executive Board" in the model which follows.) This group, in turn, is selected by and is accountable to the whole of the church for their results and is charged with looking after the interests of the whole. A critical balance of necessary skills and perspectives within this group is best achieved through some mechanism of coordinated selection (the "Leadership Discernment Committee" in the model that follows.)

$ While the executive function is charged with discerning and implementing the intent of the whole on an ongoing basis, final authority to ratify major issues of policy and priority for the church denomination must be exercised by a substantially larger body of representatively selected delegates meeting in periodic assemblies. These delegates, by virtue of the process used to select them, are able to speak to the interests and perspectives of the parts of the church that they represent--such as congregations and conferences (the "Delegate Assembly" in the model that follows.)

$ In addition to the constitutionally-mandated decision-making bodies of a church denomination (i.e., the Delegate Assembly and its Executive Board), there exists another category of leadership defined by roles played in other denominational structures (leaders of area conferences, recognized groups, etc.) These leaders carry positional (or role) authority from the conference or other recognized groups bringing major issues and concerns of their respective constituent entities. Effective church structures require a mechanism of inclusion by which such counsel can be sought and processed (the "Constituency Leaders Council" in the model that follows).

NOTES

1. Statement adopted 1995. The priorities of the original statement of Vision: Healing and Hope were (1) Christian spirituality, (2) Christian stewardship, (3) Leadership, (4) Life together, (5) Evangelism, and (6) Peace and reconciliation. These priorities have been included as concepts in the points listed.

2. The word Anabaptist as it is used throughout this document refers to the basic beliefs of persons who joined the Anabaptist movement of the 16th century. Anabaptists are the Mennonite, Brethren and other groups today who strive to live out these beliefs.

3. The points listed are not intended to represent an order of priority.

4. The current edition was adopted at the delegate sessions of the General Conference Mennonite Church and the Mennonite Church, meeting at Wichita, Kansas, July 25-30, 1995. The twenty-four articles and summary statement were accepted by both groups as their statement of faith for teaching and nurture in the life of the church. (Introduction, p. 9)

6. Our vision for the future is described on page 2.

7. A Kairos is a Greek word, with rich meaning, signaling a special time of opportunity.

8. From the Confession of Faith in a Mennonite Perspective, Article 17.

9. Multilateral means that partnerships will have more than the intended partner involved in their formation and can be initiated by any party.

10. The events and achievements noted in this list are not meant to prescribe the future, but rather be descriptive of selected noteworthy events that might occur as we are open to the leading of God's Spirit working among us.

11. Delegates at St. Louis <99 approved the recommendation from the Integration Committee ACanada/U.S. Partnerships@ (pages 83-88 of the delegate workbook.) In addition, the Transformation Teams from Canada and the US have developed further guidelines in their paper AForming Partnerships@ reviewed with the Executive Board in February, 2000.
